RESPONSE TO ELECTION OF SPECIES REQUIREMENT

Commissioner for Patents P.O. Box 1450 Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Sir:

In response to the Official Action dated April 1, 2005, the following remarks are submitted.

The aforementioned Official Action indicates that the claims in this application are directed to two different species. As identified in the Official Action, the two species are as follows.

Species A involving Claims 1-4, 10-12 and 14.

Species B involving Claims 5-9 and 13.

Based on the Examiner's observation that the two claim groupings are patentably distinct from one another, an election of species requirement has been imposed requiring an election of one of the two species.

In response to the election of species requirement, applicants hereby elect, with traverse, the claim grouping identified as Species A. Claims 1-4, 10-12 and 14 are included in this claim grouping.

The election of the claim grouping identified as Species A is made with traverse because the basis for the election of species requirement is improper. As pointed out in the response filed on January 10, 12005, the claims in this application define the disclosed embodiment of the electric parking brake apparatus in terms of different combinations and arrangements of features. The claims vary from one another in terms of breadth or scope, but are not directed to different species of the electric parking brake apparatus. The Official Action does not identify the different disclosed species, but rather only refers to different claim groupings.

In addition, § 806.04(e) of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure points out that "[c]laims are different definitions of the invention." This section goes on to emphasize that "[c]laims are never species." Rather, "[s]pecies are always the specifically different embodiments" (emphasis in original).

For at least the reasons discussed above, withdrawal of the election of species requirement and examination of all of the claims of this application are respectfully requested.

Should any questions arise in connection with the application, the undersigned respectfully requests that he be contacted at the number indicated below.

Respectfully submitted,
